

Word Wall

New word wall words will be listed on the Home Page of our classroom website when they are introduced. Your child will also have these words written in their agendas.

It is important that you practice these words at home with both reading and writing/spelling. The words are based on the high-frequency that they are found in text and will be introduced in order based on the higher the frequency.

Here are some ideas to make reading and writing more fun and enjoyable:

- Put words on sticky notes outside of your child's bedroom and use them as "passwords" for entry. (Our class will have a sight word as a password everyday on our classroom door)
- Make words out of food (ex. French fries, carrots, cheerios, etc.) before eating.
- Draw words in sand, flour, oatmeal, shaving cream on a baking tray.
- Build the words out of toothpicks, noodles, play-doh, etc.
- Build each of the words with magnetic letters, scrabble tiles, blocks or letters written on small pieces of paper.
- Find the words in a magazine or newspaper. Cut them out and paste them on a piece of paper. (Or you can cut out letters and put them together to spell the words.)
- Write each word on two index cards. Play "Go Fish" with a family member. Spell each word that you ask for (ex: "Do you have C-A-T?")
- Leave simple notes for your child, using words they know, encourage them to write back. (Ex. Invite them to a special meal in writing and tell them to write back to attend. Drawing is the beginning of writing, so pictures are a great way to communicate until a child knows enough words to write short ideas, and then sentences.)

Have fun!!

Children learn best when they are playing!
